授業方針・テーマ	This is a required course for students in the Global Education Program, 3rd year or above, upon completion of their study abroad year. Offered in an intensive format during the spring or summer break, this is a seminar-style class, based on student presentations and interactive discussion among students and professors. It offers students the opportunity to reflect on their study abroad experiences and work with fellow students with different and diverse experience, while also providing an interactive environment for students to clarify their career goals and explore suitable career paths based on both their study in their professional field and their study abroad experience.
習得できる知識・能力や 授業の目的・到達目標	Drawing on their study abroad experiences, students are expected to demonstrate their ability to analyze contemporary issues in their respective fields from a global perspective, discuss potential solutions and prospects and apply academic skills and research approaches. In their individual Presentation (15-20 minutes), students will be required to present their study at TMU in their own professional field and their study abroad experience connecting with their own career plan. In group presentation (20-25 minutes): Groups composed of three or four students who studied abroad in different parts of the world will decide on one theme that group members found interesting during their study abroad experience. Presentations should include comparative perspectives and analysis from each country or region.
授業計画・内容 授業方法	Depending on the number of students enrolled and their schedules, the structure and the day plan of the course is subject to change. Class days will be determined according to the schedules of the course lecturers and students. Each class day will consist of three periods (one period = 90 minutes) and will be held once or twice a week for three to four weeks during summer or spring break. The final unit of the seminar will be presentation day and will be determined depending on the schedule of all students and invited professors from each professional field (this can be held on two separated days). 1 – 3 Class introduction, academic skills, grouping and deciding on the themes for group presentations 4 – 6 Preparation for group presentations 7 – 9 Group presentations and peer and lecturer feedback 10 – 12 Individual presentations and peer and lecturer feedback 13 – 15 Individual and Group Presentations
